- j. History of Farming: Ron discovered that his own ancestors were early supporting farmers in the Reed Ferry area of town. His grandmother was born on the farm in March of 1938 believed to be that of Fred and Mabel Hall. The family lived on the second floor of the 2-level home. Her father worked on the farm for several years before working for himself. It was a working farm with dairy cattle, a running saw mill, ice house, orchard, hay fields and garden growing a variety of produce. The farm covered the area from where Reeds Ferry School is presently, across Pearson Road, along Bedford Road to what is now Whispering Pines Road, which was then known as Twin Bridge Road. Twin Bridge Road was named for the two wooden bridges used by the stage coaches back in the day.
