Merrimack Fire Rescue Hires Three New Firefighters

On Monday, June 22nd, Merrimack Fire Rescue welcomed three new members to the Department to fill open positions created by recent retirements. The three new Firefighters completed their first week with the Department today. Adam Egounis, Zachary McComb and Daniel Roberts were selected for the three open positions from a pool of nearly twenty applicants during a recent hiring process. All three worked a Monday through Friday orientation schedule this week, completing administrative requirements, training and other necessary tasks. Next week each new member will join their assigned shift for the standard twenty four hour duty shift. Adam will be assigned to D Shift, Zack will be joining A Shift and Dan is the newest member of B Shift. The three new Firefighters come with varying experience levels prior to joining Merrimack Fire Rescue, but all are certified in basic firefighting and emergency medical services (EMS). Adam, Zack and Dan are all currently designated as Probationary Firefighters, a title they will carry for the next six to twelve months. During this time period they will complete hours and hours of on the job training to learn the many intricacies of Firefighting, EMS and other aspects of public safety. Merrimack Fire Rescue is pleased to welcome these three new members and we wish them all a long, healthy and enjoyable career.
